Event brief (500 words with photo):

When we celebrate the Festival of Lights, we celebrate what we believe to be the victory of good over evil and of right over wrong. This festival is widely observed across India's many groups, and its customary activities include spending time with family, engaging in meaningful discourse, and expanding one's horizons beyond one's immediate concerns. Lamps are lit, sweets are prepared, given to one another, and enjoyed, gifts are given and received, enjoyable times are savoured, and relationships are cultivated. Through this competition, we hope to see some of the most imaginative and original photos you've taken throughout the festival of lights.
